

Well he may not be one-eyed and one-horned, but with apologies to Sheb Wooley, ladies and gentlemen I present to you...

PURPLE PEOPLE EATERS v.1.0

For FATE: THE CURSED KING

THE GIANT PURPLE PEOPLE EATER LURKS IN THE LOWER DUNGEONS, Waiting For... Well, people!	FATE THE CURSED KING YOU CAN TRANSFORM YOUR PET INTO PPE, OR SUMMON HIM UP TO DO YOUR DIRTY WORK (ONLY 4 per CUSTOMER)

So what's so special about this mod? Well I'm glad you asked!

SOUNDS SOUNDS SOUNDS!!!

This mod comes with 30 new sound effects. PPE growls like a crocodile, screeches like a Pterodactyl (because we all know what Pteradactyls sounded like), and purrs like a stirred-up bucket of rocks. Every monster has its own unique soundscape – even the herdlings peep and gurgle like the cute little buggers they are.

BUT WAIT, THERE'S MORE!

PPE has two spells that only he can cast: he can summon his missus in the heat of battle, and he's got a vicious projectile spell called CRYSTAL DEATH. Here's what it looks like, cast by the character...

You won't find this spell on any scrolls – it belongs only to PPE, but you will be able to summon him up, and when you do, look out below! Shards of icy amethyst will rain down from the Magickal Realme of Purple and coalesce into your summoned monster as the earth shakes at his ominous arrival, all to the accompaniment of thunderous wooshing and the tintinnabulation of the bells, bells, bells...

A few Purple People Eaters are just the thing to have when you're surrounded by a couple of dungeon bosses and their minions. Summon up a few of the big purple rock golems, and shortly they'll call up the old ladies, and you'll have yourself an army of violet violence...

BUT WHAT ABOUT MY PET?

Can he be a Purple People Eater too?

Why YES! Throughout the game, you'll find purple crystals which you can feed to your pet to transform him into a PPE. The crystals work just like the fish - buy them from merchants, find them in crates, or fish them up...

Even the pet transformation has its own unique combination of effects and original sounds.

NOTE: This mod is not a cheat. I have carefully tested and coded it to fit into the gameplay of Fate: The Cursed King. As you begin the game, you will occasionally get to transform your pet into PPE, but you will have to build your magic points up to 55 in order to learn the summoning spell. PPE is roughly in the same league as summoned Wyverns, but with magic abilities. And it takes 75 points of mana to summon him, so you won't be getting an army until your character has advanced somewhat, or you're willing to buy a lot of mana potions. PPE will be very useful in the lower dungeons, especially during large melee battles, and Giant PPE is now the strongest monster in the volcano realm – you won't meet him until you've defeated the realm boss.

DISCLAIMER: No Purple People Eaters were injured during the creation of this mod. Oh, wait. That's not true. In fact, they were stretched and shrunk, repainted, summoned and dispelled, hacked with swords, pounded with hammers, torn to pieces by evil minions, scorched, blasted, frozen, and otherwise annihilated, destroyed, incinerated, and vanquished. Nevermind.
